“LUNES DE AGUAS”

Every year there’s a popular celebration in Salamanca. It’s called “Lunes de Aguas”. This celebration is in April and it’s a celebration of the end of Easter.

On the second Monday after the Easter Sunday, people go to the countryside by the river Tormes and the families eat typical food there. It’s called “hornazo”. It’s a pie with Spanish sausage, pork loin, and red pepper. It’s delicious.

I like this day because I go to the celebration with my cousins, my aunts and uncles because they live in Salamanca. I also like playing football with my cousins. We also meet friends and we tell jokes.
